Hi everyone, I am D.B - 28 years old living in As near Genk.

In my spare time you can find me in the kitchen whipping up delicious desserts, reading a good book or going out with friends.

On my bookshelf you can find Dostojevski but also Albert Camus. I am a sociable team player, giving it all my best to start a professional ICT career.

Oh yes, I hold a graduate programming degree and I have been trained to become the full stack developer that you are looking for.

Looking forward to meeting you soon and be an integral part of your successful team!
